CASE SENT UP BY JUDGE MONK

U. S. Supreme Court Will Pass on Marshall Constitution.

JUDICIARY USURPS POWER, IS CLAIM

Contend Indiana Courts Erred in Interfering With Governor.

Indianapolis, Nov. 27.—The Marshall constitution case, which was decided against the governor by the Indiana supreme court, was sent today to the supreme court of the United States by order of Chief Justice McKenna of the Indiana court. The principal basis for the appeal was whether the judicial department of the state has the power to coerce the governor by injunction.

During the last legislature a bill, proposed by Gov. Marshall, now vice president-elect, providing a new constitution for the state of Indiana, was passed and the constitution ordered submitted to the people for a vote. John T. Dye, a taxpayer, brought suit to enjoin the governor and election commissioners from submitting the constitution to the people. The injunction was upheld in the Marion county court, and carried to the Indiana supreme court, where it was again upheld.

When Judge Monk became chief justice he ordered the appeal.

The question involved which the appellants to the United States court declare is sufficient to bring the much mooted case within the purview of the federal courts, is their contention that the judiciary of Indiana has usurped power not delegated to it in a republican form of government by making the two other co-ordinate branches of government subservient to its decisions.

On that question the assignment of errors declares:

"That the said court thereby sought to give color of authority to its assertion of the right to direct and control the executive department in the discharge of purely political functions, and to direct and control the governor of the state in the discharge of purely executive and political duties and to make the executive department of the governor's office in the state department subservient to the judicial department thereof; that the said holding and decision of said court was and is in conflict with the constitution of the United States and of article 4, section 4 thereof, by which a republican form of government is granted to the United States of the union. Infringement of such guarantee as aforesaid is in such form and made in such manner and accompanied by such pretense, as that the United States cannot make good said guarantee through or by the legislative or

DEFENSE TURNS IN A NEW TACK

Suggests McManigal Was in Employ of Erectors' Detectives.

INFORMER DENIES IT

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 27.—Suggestions that Orrie E. McManigal, in boldly blowing up jobs throughout the country, was actually in the employ of the detectives who followed him, were set up by the defense at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today. Senator John W. Kern, for the defense, flatly asked McManigal whether he, while dynamiting, was not in the employ of the National Erectors' association, an organization whose "open shop" policy was being opposed by the iron workers' union.

McManigal denied that he was employed by any one other than J. J. McNamara or that he acted as a "spy" in the ranks of the dynamiters.

"Isn't it a fact that just before your arrest you were indifferent whether you were arrested or not?" asked Senator Kern.

"I was indifferent. I expected to be arrested at any time. I changed my attitude after the people were killed in the Los Angeles Times explosion."

"Had you been in communication with persons interested in your arrest?"

"I had not. The officials of the union had double-crossed me. J. B. McNamara had tried to kill me and I knew after the Times explosion we would be caught. I told J. J. McNamara I guessed I'd go get a job from the National Erectors' association. He replied 'You do that and see how long you'll last.'"

Told of Various Quarrels.

McManigal told of various quarrels between himself, Herbert S. Hockin and the McNamaras, which he said threatened to disrupt the "dynamiting crew," but they all "hung together," each fearing betrayal by the others.

In his direct testimony McManigal named fifteen of the defendants as having helped him directly or indirectly in arranging explosions. Senator Kern sought by questions to bring out that the defendants met the dynamiter merely by accident because of their being members of the Iron Workers' union. In response the witness insisted, proposed explosions actually were talked of by union officials in various cities.

"In one instance, a defendant was named by McManigal without having been seen by him. McManigal said on returning to Indianapolis after blowing up a job at Superior, Wis., in August, 1910, J. J. McNamara said 'A letter of thanks for the dynamiters' visit to Superior' had been received from Fred Mooney, business agent at Duluth, Minn. Will Ask for New Bond."

District Attorney Miller served notice on twelve of the defendants this afternoon that he was advised their bonds had been indemnified and if this was true he would ask the court to set aside the present bonds and ask for new ones.

CAN'T TELL JUST WHAT FEELING IS

Winski, His Stomach Gone, Lacks English to Describe Sensation.

"Oh, it feel not so very good," said Alexander Winski, of 1420 McCulloch street, when he was asked to explain today the sensation he experiences at being forced to subsist without the assistance of a stomach.

Winski is a Polish laborer and he returned home Tuesday from St. Joseph's hospital where several weeks ago his stomach was removed and the bowel and esophagus were connected in hope of saving his life. Today he was able to dress and pose for a photograph for The Sentinel. His English vocabulary is so limited that he could tell nothing of how a man feels without one of the most important organs of his general structure.

"Wait, Mistaire, I get table and chair, and flower for beam. Make nice picture, not eh? He put on nice shirt and feed hair, 'so look good,' said the busy wife as she got a chair and a bouquet of asters, spread a white cloth on the table, and arranged the setting for the photograph just as it appears in The Sentinel today.

"You sell me picture, I like have one? No? You give me one, very well, I thank you," she continued.

Winski has two little children, the youngest a boy of two years, who had been eating breakfast and like all children who have the opportunity, mixing a little dirt with the overflow.

"You see, I wash clothes and baby been get dirt on face. I can not watch heem," explained Mrs. Winski as she wiped the youngster's face on her apron. She seemed delighted to have her husband back home with her and showered him with attentions while he was getting ready to be photographed.

When the patient, consulted Dr. A. H. Macbeth, who performed the operation, it was found that the stomach was several times what its normal size should have been and as treatment did not give relief it was decided to operate. The stomach was found full of malignant growths and the only chance to save the man's life lay in its removal as there was absolutely no chance to effect a cure.

Successful operations of the kind are exceedingly rare and physicians have watched this with consuming interest, as both courage and skill were required in dealing with the case. Winski was able to walk about today and his color and movements indicate that he is rapidly regaining his strength.

ORDERED TO REPORT.

Frankfort on the Maine, Germany, Nov. 27.—Austro-Hungarian subjects residing here, who belong to the army reserve, have received orders to report to their regiments. Money has been sent to them to pay their railroad fares as far as the frontier. Austrians and Hungarians employed in the German mining districts have received similar orders.

MAY YET AVERT A GENERAL WAR

European Powers Seem to Begin to Realize Impending Peril.

GIVES NEW HOPE

OF A SETTLEMENT

Great Britain, France and Germany Relied Upon to Prevent Big Clash.

London, Nov. 27.—The fact that the European powers have at last realized that they were drifting toward certain conflict tends to relieve the immediate tension of the international political tangle into which the Balkan situation has now developed. The belief that Great Britain, France and Germany will succeed in averting the threatened general European war has been strengthened within the last 24 hours.

It is now asserted that Austria-Hungary is prepared to agree to the question concerning the future of Albania and the desire of Serbia for a port on the Adriatic sea being settled in connection with all other issues by the Balkan war as was recently proposed by Premier Asquith. If this change of the Austro-Hungarian attitude should be confirmed the dangerous pressure at present existing will be removed. Diplomats declare that they see plenty of methods of meeting the requirements of Serbia without seriously inconveniencing Austria-Hungary or burying the formula of "Albania for the Albanians."

Even the occupation of the port of Durazzo by the Serbian troops will not necessarily change the international situation as it is a long step from the present occupation or permanent retention of the port by the Serbians, which is a question that could be settled only by an agreement of the European powers. The stumbling blocks in the way of an agreement by the envoys of Turkey and Bulgaria now discussing peace in a parlor car at the village of

PICTURE SHOW EXPLOSION HITS MICHIGAN VILLAGE.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Nov. 27.—An explosion in a moving picture show in the village of Coloma, ten miles north of here last night, caused the destruction of a block of buildings by fire and injury to several persons. Four women were hurt in the rush to escape. Joseph Humphrey, the film operator, suffered serious burns. The local firemen were unable to subdue the flames and help from the fire department here was sent. The property loss was $25,000.

WOMAN IS FREED IN MURDER CASE

Mrs. Lesh Hears Verdict Calmly at First; Then Bursts Into Tears.

OLD CONFESSION NIL

Sedalia, Mo., Nov. 27.—"Not guilty" was the verdict returned by the jury here today in the case of Mrs. Fanny Ellen Lesh, charged with the murder of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Quintance, of Green Ridge, Mo. Judge Shain instructed the jury to acquit the woman on the ground that a confession she had made was not backed by corroborative evidence.

Mrs. Lesh thanked judge, jurors and attorneys. She received the verdict calmly at first but began to cry when her attorney told her she was free to go wherever she would.

Mrs. Lesh said she would leave today or tomorrow for Jacksonville, Ill., and after a short visit with relatives there would return to Los Angeles and attempt to gain possession of her two-year-old son.

On Nov. 2 Mrs. Lesh, then living in Los Angeles, confessed that she had caused the deaths of Mrs. Quintance in 1904 and Mrs. Elizabeth Coe, of Sedalia, in 1905, by administering poison in their food while she was employed by them. She was then less than 14 years old. She told Los Angeles authorities her husband knew of her acts and that she made the confession to prevent his exposing her. On the return journey to Missouri she told Sheriff Henderson, of Sedalia, of being left an orphan in St. Louis and of mistreatment at the hands of several persons with whom she lived thereafter. She said lack of a mother's care had left her practically without a sense of right and wrong. The death of Mrs. Quintance and Mrs. Coe were at the time believed to be from natural causes.

Mrs. Lesh's brief began Monday. The trial was brief. Judge Shain refused to admit the confession and prepared a formal verdict of acquittal which was at once signed by the jury. The charge of first degree murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Coe was dismissed.

WRANGLE AT EVERY STEP.

Trial of Cash Register Officials Proceeds Very Slowly.

Cincinnati, Nov. 27.—The trial of John H. Patterson and twenty-nine other officials and former officials of the National Cash Register company, of Dayton, on the charge of violating the criminal section of the Sherman anti-trust law, was resumed today with Henry F. James, of Detroit, the first witness in the case, still on the stand. On the previous days of the trial almost every question put to James has resulted in arguments between the opposing attorneys, but it was believed that his examination would be concluded today. After today there will be no further hearings in the case this week, court adjourning until next Monday.

TAKE UP WORK ON $50,000,000 BILL

House Committee Framing Rivers and Harbors Measure.

CLARK HOLDS PLACE

Washington, Nov. 27.—Work on the big rivers and harbors appropriation bill began today with a meeting of the house rivers and harbors committee, of which Representative Sparkman, of Florida, is chairman. The army engineers have submitted to the committee estimates for about $40,000,000 worth of river and harbor improvements. The committee will review the estimates and it is expected will add to them. As completed the measure is expected to carry about $50,000,000.

Will Reappoint Clark.

President Taft today announced that he will reappoint Edgar Clark, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., as a member of the interstate commerce commission for a seven-year term beginning Jan. 1, 1913. He was formerly at the head of the Order of Railway Conductors of America.

For Archbold Prosecution.

Plans for the prosecution of Judge Robert W. Archbold, of the United States commerce court, on impeachment charges before the senate, were gone over today at a meeting of the managers, who will conduct the case for the house of representatives. GOVERNORS TO TALK NEW LAWS

Program is Out for Fifth Conference at Richmond

Next Week.

SEEKING UNIFORMITY

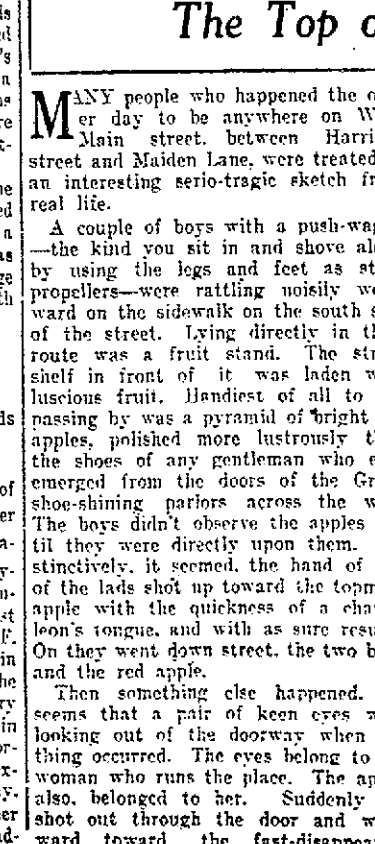

Madison, Wis., Nov. 27.—The official program for the fifth governors' conference, to be held at Richmond, Va., Dec. 3 to 7 inclusive, was announced here today by Miles C. Riley, secretary of the conference. The program deals with proposed legislation which will be considered by the various states this winter. Last year the program was devoted entirely to the administrative side of government. It was Secretary Riley's plan to have the conference this year devoted to legislative topics so that laws of a uniform nature may be enacted in the different states.

Mr. Riley said that from letters he had received he believed about forty executives would attend.

Gov. McGovern, of Wisconsin, will read a paper on "A State Income Tax" and "The Development of Inland Waterways" will be the subject of a discussion by Gov. East, of Massachusetts, and Gov. Deneen, of Illinois. "Uniformity of Marriage and Divorce Laws" will be presented by Governors Odell, of Nevada, and Hawley, of Idaho. Governors O'Neill, of Alabama, and Burke, of North Dakota, will discuss "Rural Credits," which subject is to be taken up on Dec. 7 at a conference with President Taft, at Washington. Governors Eberhardt, of Minnesota, and Hadley, of Missouri, will speak on "What the State Can Do to Check the Drift of Population from Farm to City."

The meeting will be opened with a discussion of modern penology by Gov. Shafer, of Colorado, and Gov. Baldwin, of Connecticut.

SCORE STATE JAIL SYSTEM

Worse Than Horrors of the Congo, Declares A. W. Butler.

JUDGE COLLINS

IS ALSO CAUSTIC

Says Indiana Does More for Hogs Than for Humans in Prison Cells.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 27.—Denouncing the results of the Indiana jail system as being worse than the horrors and atrocities of the Congo, Amos W. Butler, secretary of the board of state charities, made a plea for a state farm, in an address today at a membership meeting of the Commercial club.

Judge James A. Collins, of the Indianapolis police court, added his condemnation of the jail system by declaring that the state of Indiana does more for its hogs at its public institutions than it does for "the unfortunate and disease ridden offenders who are made in its image." Mr. Butler said that last year 36,380 men, women, boys and girls were admitted to Indiana jails, 15,000 of whom were sentenced or laid out fines. There they lived in idleness at the expense of the taxpayers. There they learned vice, immorality and crime. They became educated in criminal ways, and degenerated both physically and morally.

SELF-DEFENSE IS PLEA

Youth of Twenty on Trial for Murder at Greencastle.

Greencastle, Ind., Nov. 27.—The trial of Thomas Howard, aged 20, charged with killing Roscoe Yopp, a paroled inmate of the Indiana state reformatory, Sept. 7, began in the Putnam circuit court today. Howard's plea is self-defense. Yopp's parents have employed an attorney to assist the county prosecutor, Howard, Yopp and Roscoe Boone had been drinking on the night of the fight. About midnight Howard and Boone started home and met Yopp. Howard and Boone both say that they were attacked by Yopp; that Yopp struck them, and finally knocked Boone down. Defending himself against a second attack by Yopp, Howard says, he struck at Yopp with a pocket knife. Yopp fell and Howard and Boone left.

CHAMP CLARK SIGNS FOR GOOD OLD KITCHEN RANGE.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Speaker Champ Clark and the Clark family today disconsolately deplored the degeneracy of the good old kitchen range in which our mothers cooked the Thanksgiving turkey.

"These modern cook stoves are on a par with the rest of our effete civilization," said the speaker. "South Trimble, the clerk of the house, gave me a fine Thanksgiving day turkey. It is a noble bird, of magnificent proportions. When I got it home and the family had admired it, we discovered that the oven of our cook stove would not be tight enough to roast the turkey."

"After a family conference at the Clark home, and after several statements had been consulted as to the difficulties of the situation, the Clark turkey was lugged to the capitol. Today the speaker turned the bird over to the chef of the house of representatives' restaurant, who will roast it tomorrow in the big restaurant oven."

Nicely browned and stuffed, it will then be sent by automobile to the speaker's home for the Thanksgiving dinner.

The Top of the Pyramid

MANY people who happened the other day to be anywhere on West Main street, between Harrison street and Maiden Lane, were treated to an interesting serio-tragic sketch from real life.

A couple of boys with a push-wagon—the kind you sit in and shove along by using the legs and feet as stern propellers—were rattling noisily westward on the sidewalk on the south side of the street. Lying directly in their route was a fruit stand. The street shelf in front of it was laden with luscious fruit. Handiest of all to one passing by was a pyramid of bright red apples, polished more lustreously than the shoes of any gentleman who ever emerged from the doors of the Greek shoe-shining parlors across the way.

The boys didn't observe the apples until they were directly upon them. Instinctively, it seemed, the hand of one of the lads shot up toward the topmost apple with the quickness of a champion's tongue, and with as sure results. On they went down street, the two boys and the red apple.

Then something else happened. It seems that a pair of keen eyes were looking out of the doorway when the thing occurred. The eyes belong to the woman who runs the place. The apple, also, belonged to her. Suddenly she shot out through the door and westward toward the fast-disappearing boys and the faster-disappearing apple.

Never intended for a sprinter.

Although nature had never intended her for a sprinter, she didn't let a little thing like that trouble her. She overtook the lads without difficulty. Picking up the boy who displayed the uncontrollable desire for pippins, she grabbed him by the rear of his jacket and carried him back into the store, as if he were a suit case. The interested crowd gathered, but they couldn't get in. In a little while the boy emerged.

"What did she do to you?"

"Nothing." Just told me a few things that I couldn't understand. But I ain't goin' to do that again."

SCHAPHORST HAD VERY CLOSE CALL

Came Mighty Near Eating Thanksgiving Dinner With County.

GAVE A GUARANTEE

Otto Schaphorst came mighty near being the guest of the county for Thanksgiving and escaped only when he gave an order on his employers instructing them to pay his former wife $3 a week as alimony allowed her in the superior court.

He had been in the superior court before on a contempt charge for failing to pay alimony and had paid no attention to the promise he made when he was arraigned. "You will just go to jail for ten days," said Judge Yapple, but before the order was entered the compromise had been reached.

"Don't say that every fellow who comes before me for failure to pay alimony in divorce cases for the support of wives and children will be sent to jail," said the judge, "but those who do not pay must have mighty good excuses."

"I am tired of dealing with these men who have no respect for court orders and when they are arraigned on contempt charges and it is shown they have neglected willfully to keep the orders of the court they go to jail sure."

Bonds Are Prepared. Bonds with elaborate abstracts showing the action taken in the establishment of stone roads in Lafayette and Jackson townships have been prepared by County Treasurer Bueter and are ready for delivery.

Will Extend the Wings.

For better protection to the Lake-side dike, the lateral wings at the north end of the Coombs street bridge will be extended twelve feet. This has been decided upon by the county commissioners.

Cases Placed on Trial.

Cases of larceny against Kenneth Swift, Ernest Stahlhut, Charles Crater and Bert Spittler, charged with stealing clover seed from Charles Duley, were placed on trial in the circuit court today. All pleaded guilty except Carter. The others devoted their defense to proof of previous good character.

Seeking a Decree.

The divorce suit of Mamie Dewitt against Thomas Jefferson Dewitt was placed on trial in the superior court this afternoon. He made no defense and it was practically certain the decree would be granted.

DRAYMEN WILL ORGANIZE.

An effort will be made to form a permanent organization among the draymen and truckmen of Fort Wayne.

A new band has been formed at Huntington and will consist of twenty-five pieces. The instruments are to be furnished by the Rose Band Instrument company of this city.

ADOPT NEW SYSTEM.

City Offices Have New Scheme of Issuing Purchase Orders.

Several of the city offices, including the health board, controller's office, police department, park board and the city attorney's office, have adopted a new system of issuing orders for all purchases. The orders are made in triplicate form. The original order is to be taken to the firm with which the purchase is made, the duplicate is sent to the controller's office and the triplicate is left in the office of the department making the purchase.

The park board has adopted another system of keeping time for work done by the different members of the park department. This is done to more accurately ascertain the exact cost of any improvement so that the proper assessments can be made against the benefited property.

MR. LAWSON GOES AFTER 'EM AGAIN

Urges Curbing of Stock Exchange Gambling Proposition.

A REMEDY FOR EVILS

New York, Nov. 26.—Thomas W. Lawson, exposing the inequities of the stock exchange in Everybody's Magazine, proposes his "remedy" in the December number. It is simply this: First, congress is to pass a law—which Lawson has drafted—bringing the stock exchange under the federal lotteries act. The amendments he suggests would make it unlawful to send through the mails any information regarding stocks and bonds, or any evidence of stock exchange transactions. Unless the stock exchange is incorporated by the congress of the United States.

THOMAS W. LAWSON.

The next step would be for congress to pass a law for the incorporation of a federal stock exchange, and for its regulation so as to get rid of the gambling evils of the present system. Lawson promises to draft such a law.

The author gives a startling array of figures to prove the need of such regulation. He declares that the stock gambling game is now costing the American people $3,000,000,000 a year, and the vast sum, now wasted and stolen, might be saved to lower the cost of living.

"The stock gambling game," he says, "burns money faster to pay expenses than any other game on earth, than all other games combined—and a thousand, yes, ten thousand times faster. And the money to keep it running comes from all classes of the American people. Here are some of the items:

"The market value of the memberships in the New York stock exchange is one hundred million of dollars. The interest on this amount, at 5 per cent, is five millions annually.

"A billion dollars is invested in the stock gambling business. The interest on this amount is a hundred millions annually.

"Over fifty per cent of all the telegrams sent in the United States are connected with stock gambling.

"One house in the street has its private wires stretched 5,000 miles from ocean to ocean and from the lakes to the gulf, at a cost of over $700,000 a year. And this is only the cost of the wires.

"An office manager who can command the business of a few large operators gets from $10,000 to $20,000 a year, some even $75,000 to $100,000.

"Single stock exchange houses have as many as eight stock exchange memberships, worth from $600,000 to $800,000.

"Single Wall street houses owe the banks, day in and day out, the year round, from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000.

"Some of these houses cost over $1,000,000 a year to run, doing as much as $25,000,000 of business a day."

The only legitimate way that can take money from the public, explains Lawson, is in commissions on the business transacted and interest on the money loaned to carry stocks. In 1906 there were 570,000,000 shares bought or sold, making commissions of $71,250,000. He adds, "if the interest and incidental charge brought the amount up to $300,000,000, it would still be a long way off from the amount of money actually taken from the public to meet the expenses of the game."

FIRE ON BOARDWALK.

Bradford Hotel, Atlantic City, Licked Up By Flames.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 27.—Fire on the boardwalk, this afternoon, threatened serious damage. It started on Georgia avenue in the lower part of the city and swept along to the boardwalk and up toward Mississippi avenue. Most of the buildings in the path of the flames were small frame affairs.

The fire started in the rear of a small restaurant and spread to the Bradford hotel, which was destroyed. The hotel was valued at about $29,000. Other small old wooden structures were attacked and also burned, bringing the loss up to about $80,000.

Fire on the boardwalk always creates much excitement and today's outbreak drew thousands of persons to the scene.

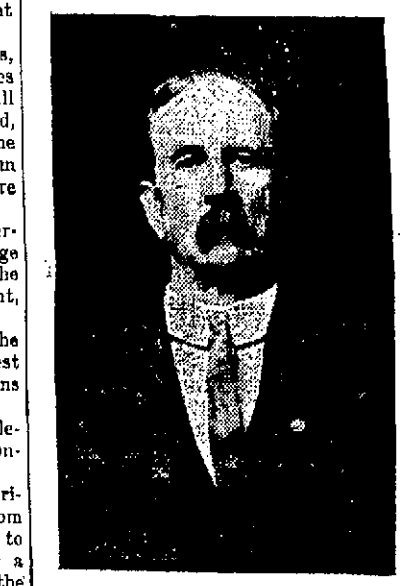

STILL AWAITING REPORTS.

Building Trades Department of Labor Federation Adjourns.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 27.—The convention of the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor was compelled to adjourn its session today because committees had not finished their work. The convention which was originally planned to last three days, will be unable to complete its work before the end of the week.

President Compton, of the federation, who has been suffering from a severe cold and threatened pneumonia, is so much improved that he left his hotel room today and plans to leave for Washington tonight.

PLACE OFFICERS ON STREET CARS

Plain Clothes Men to See That Conductors Comply With Law.

SAFETY BOARD ACTS

"We will place plain clothes policemen on the cars to see that conductors call the streets and that they comply with the other city ordinances if we find they will not obey the law without taking this step."

This is what Chairman Joseph Hutzell said today when he was asked what the board had decided to do after a conference last night with General Manager S. W. Greenland and Attorney J. M. Barrett, of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company.

Mr. Hutzell said he had no idea that such a drastic step would become necessary but said his board had determined to see that the company employees do their duty from this time on.

All new cars put in service will be equipped with air brakes. The old ones will be kept as they are until they are decided unfit for further use. Fenders will be inspected, cars will be kept clean and all of the things asked by the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor will be granted as the officials seemed anxious to maintain a good service as the citizens are to have one.

Mr. Barrett explained that while all other corporations have the privilege of increasing charges to meet increased wages and advance in the price of material, the street car company can not do this as the fare is fixed by law and can not be changed except by the enactment of a new ordinance.

He said the company had been to enormous expense in improving the system and that a great many things that the officers want to do cannot be done because of the expense entailed.

Nothing has been heard from the Lake Erie and Western officials about a walk under the tracks at Boone street and Mr. Hutzell said he would insist on an immediate answer.

DOES NOT DESIRE TO LEAD IN 1916

President Taft Will Not Be a Candidate for Nomination.

HAS MADE IT PLAIN

Washington, Nov. 27.—President Taft has quietly informed friends that no matter how active his participation in a reorganization of the republican party may be, he is not to be regarded or publicly referred to in political speeches by republicans as a possible candidate of the party in 1916.

The president has made it plain that he does not wish to be considered as in any way having an eye on the first place on the republican ticket four years from now. He intends to do all in his power to help rejuvenate the party and probably will make many political speeches before March 4 and after he re-enters private life, but according to close friends, he is in the fight to continue the party and to try to return it to power, as a man who has been its standard bearer for four years and not as a man seeking a re-nomination four years hence.

These facts have been developed here during the last few days, in connection with discussion of a proposed gathering of republican leaders during the winter, to formulate plans for bringing republican factions together. Within the last week nearly a dozen republican national committeemen have called at the white house for brief conferences either with the president or with his secretary, Charles D. Hilles, who was chairman of the republican national committee during the campaign.

A meeting of republican leaders, to be held at New York or Washington some time early in January is now being considered; but plans are as yet indefinite. President Taft and Mr. Hilles are being urged to take part in the movement to establish active "militant" headquarters for the party to open at once, and to lead a general party reorganization movement during the next four years.

The president is expected to speak at a republican dinner in New York some time in January but it is said here that there has been an understanding that no speaker at that dinner, whenever it is held, shall refer to the president as the prospective republican standard bearer of 1916. His endorsement of the dinner idea is said to have been contingent upon such an understanding.

WANTED BODY FOUND QUICKLY.

Dr. J. B. Snyder, Bryan Dentist, Commits Suicide at Toledo.

Toledo, O., Nov. 27.—That he, Dr. James B. Snyder, 53, dentist, of Bryan, O., arranged for the convenient discovery of his body by a long-time friend before he committed suicide by poison in his lodging house here last night, was indicated to Coroner C. J. Hensler by the fact that Dr. Snyder last night obtained a promise from J. E. Alvord to call to see him at his room early today. Alvord did so and found the body. Dr. Snyder had been here for two weeks taking treatment for neurasthenia and was despondent. He leaves a wife and three children in Bryan.

GIVES DEMOCRAT VICTORY.

Contestants for Kansas Governorship Sign Peace Agreement.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 27.—Attorneys for Arthur Capper, republican, and George Hodges, democrat, contesting candidates for the Kansas governorship, have signed a peace agreement that will surely give Hodges the certificate of election. It is agreed that the supplementary vote claimed by both sides shall be counted. This vote added to the official returns given out by the secretary of state increase Hodges' lead from 31 to 52. Capper's only chance now appears to be to file a contest after Hodges' inauguration and get the rejected legal ballots counted.

FIREMEN TO GET A SALARY RAISE

Board of Safety Likely to Agree When the Case Comes Up.

SHORT SESSION HELD

President Joseph Hutzell said today he would not commit the board of public safety on the proposition to give the city firemen a raise of $5 a month in their salaries for next year, but indicated that there will be no strong opposition when the board meets the council committee on fees and salaries which is in charge of the matter.

After the ordinance giving a raise of $5 a month to policemen and a substantial increase to the chief and captain had been passed in the city council last night an ordinance was read granting the chief and his assistant an increase. After a little wobble in the effort to get the ordinance back to where it could be reconsidered, it was referred to the committee with instructions to confer with the safety board. The fire chief will get $1,800 a year under the new measure.

Chief Abbott was present at the meeting and when the communication from the city attorney was read, saying it is the duty of the police department to have street obstructions moved, his attention was called to the matter and he promised to give it his attention.

Ordinances were passed appropriating $700 to garbage disposal and $2,500 to street cleaning and a new health measure written by the attorney general of Indiana, and sent here by Dr. J. N. Hurty, of the state health board, went to a second reading and was referred to the committee on rules, regulations and ordinances.

This measure provides under one head for cutting weeds, prevention of refuse matter being placed on streets or vacant lots, the manner of keeping garbage and the dozen and one things now contained in half a dozen city laws.

A reconsideration of the sign ordinance was granted and a new one will be presented that is not so drastic in its provisions.

TWO SMALL FIRES TODAY.

The fire department put out two fires this morning before much damage was done. The first one started at 9 o'clock at the residence of C. J. McCain, 1123 West Washington street, from sparks from the chimney. The loss amounted to $25, and the owner of the building is E. White.

The other fire was at 720 Clay street at the residence of E. Tamas. The origin of the blaze was a gasoline stove, which ignited some combustible material near by. Cal Reiman is the owner of the house, and the damage resulting from the fire is slight.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORING TOWNS

MOTHER WAS DEAD WHEN SON ARRIVED

Had Expected to Pass Joyous Thanksgiving After Long Absence from Home.

Harford City, Ind., Nov. 27.—Anticipating a joyous Thanksgiving visit, Alva C. Townsend, of Richland, Wis., arrived in this city yesterday with the idea of surprising his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Lettler, aged 85 years. He found, instead of motherly arms to embrace him, that his parent was dead.

Mr. Townsend had not seen his mother for four years. He knew nothing of her serious illness, following an attack of paralysis of the brain Saturday evening which caused her death five hours before he arrived, and expected to find her in her usual health. He had planned to make his visit a surprise and had arranged his business matters that he might remain with her during the Thanksgiving season.

When, after arriving here, he learned of the death of his mother he was nearly heart-broken and the hot tears coursed down his cheeks. The funeral of Mrs. Lettler will take place on Thanksgiving day.

MONROEVILLE W. C. T. U.

Interesting Meeting Held at Home of Mrs. William Erwin.

Monroeville, Ind., Nov. 27.—Mrs. C. S. Ridenour, the president of the Allen County W. C. T. U., and Mrs. J. W. Hunter, of the Fort Wayne W. C. T. U., were here yesterday in attendance on the semi-monthly meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance union of Monroeville, held at the home of Mrs. William Erwin, the meeting being largely attended and interesting in the program followed.

The feature was a paper on temperance read by Mrs. Welty, an especially able presentation of the work in which the W. C. T. U. is engaged. Mr. J. W. Miller gave a reading and Mrs. Hunter, of the Fort Wayne, presented a report of the proceedings of the national convention of the union.

The musical selection of the afternoon was given by a quartet of Monroeville ladies, consisting of Mesdames Ida Youse, Stewart Brown, Henry Murquardt and Mrs. Dr. Smith. Mrs. Ridenour made an informal talk, which proved interesting and helpful.

Considerable business of an important character was transacted. It was an afternoon meeting and the time proved too brief for the purposes of the union. Because of this fact a motion was adopted to have the next meeting an all day session, convening in the forenoon and continuing through the afternoon.

CROSSED OCEAN TO WED THEIR LOVERS

Rev. Father Wrobel, of Fort Wayne, Officiates at Double Wedding in Huntington.

Huntington, Ind., Nov. 27.—On Tuesday at the St. Peter and Paul's Catholic churches occurred the double wedding of two Polish couples, the grooms being brothers and the brides being girls who had crossed the seas to wed their lovers. The ceremony uniting the couples in marriage was performed by Rev. E. J. Wrobel, pastor of the St. Hyacinth's church at Fort Wayne, a Polish priest.

The young Polish people married were Rosa Bohynycz to Tony Bomersback and Pauline Kaluk to John Bomersback, the men being foreigners who are at work in construction jobs near here.

Rosa Bohynycz and Pauline Kaluk had long been sweethearts of the Bomersback brothers back along the Austrian border. The brothers came to America to seek their fortunes and had been at work in this country for some years, saving their money and sending frequent remittances to their sweethearts across the ocean to have for making their journeys to this country. Finally enough was accumulated by the girls and the men to begin matrimonial life and the two brides made the ocean trip, arriving here two weeks ago.

Following the ceremonies at the church, witnessed by a large audience, the colony of foreigners engaged in construction work near here celebrated the event with a feast. It was in keeping with foreign customs.

A THANKSGIVING FESTIVAL.

Sunday Schools in Vicinity of Monroeville United in Event.

Monroeville, Ind., Nov. 27.—The Sunday schools at Monroeville, Woodland and Pleasant Grove will hold a Thanksgiving festival tomorrow at the M. E. church in Monroeville, which promises to be a most interesting and largely attended event. It is called a harvest festival and there will be on display representations of the year's harvest in the way of grains, vegetables, fruits, etc., with canned goods, jellies and other articles. Included in the list of grains, vegetables and fruits will be corn, oats, rye, potatoes, popcorn, cabbage, turnips, apples, pears and beets.

All the articles on display will be donated and sold, the proceeds being used for mission work in the interest of the Sunday schools. It is the purpose of the festival to make a display of Monroeville's crops and premiums will be awarded by judges appointed by the management. After this all the articles on exhibition will be sold.

The display will be open to the public at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and from 2 to 3 o'clock there will be a program of song and other exercises. At 3 o'clock all articles not sold during the day will be auctioned off.

DR. N. G. REIFF DEAD.

Prominent Physician of Albion Has Passed Away.

Albion, Ind., Nov. 27.—Dr. Nathan G. Reiff, a prominent physician of this place and a well known lodge man, died yesterday at the Brackney residence, where he had made his home, aged 53 years, following an acute attack of tonsillitis, from which he had suffered for a week. He had anticipated his death and on Monday morning he called Judge Wrigley to his bedside. At that time he made his will and issued instructions concerning his burial.

Dr. Reiff was a native of Pennsylvania. He graduated from Lafayette college, Eaton, Pa., in 1881, and from Hahemann Medical college, Philadelphia. He practiced for two years in his home town, Pottsville, Pa., and in 1886 came to Albion, where he had resided ever since.

He was a member of the local Masonic lodge and of the Scottish Rite of Fort Wayne; and of the Royal Arch and Knights Templar at Kendallville. He was unmarried and is survived by the mother and a brother, both of whom reside in Pottsville, Pa. The remains have been sent there for burial.

Work is Being Rushed on Avilla's New Lighting System.

Avilla, Ind., Nov. 27.—The building for the new electric light plant for the town is completed and the poles are set for the wires. The stringing of wires will be commenced soon and the machinery will be placed as soon as it arrives. C. L. Olds, of Fort Wayne, who is building the plant is under contract to have it completed by Jan. 1, but if the machinery arrives in time he expects to have the electricity turned on by Christmas. Avilla has a splendid water works system and with the new lighting plant in operation will be in advance of the most towns of its size, less than 700 population.

Has Hit Upon Right Remedy

Distinct and cordial commendation is due the Indianapolis judge who a day or two ago declared his intention of filling the jail with men who refuse to support their children, born before they were divorced, before he would permit the children to become county charges or be placed in the public institutions. The case under immediate consideration was one in which the father pleaded the responsibilities of a second marriage in order to evade obedience to an order of court directing him to pay some $4 a week toward the support of two children by a former marriage. The situation is not peculiar to Indianapolis. Time and again the courts in Fort Wayne and elsewhere are called upon to deal with cases identical in character. With a disregard that amounts to despicable inhumanity the father saddles upon someone else the care and the support of children in no wise responsible for their situation and goes his way with his new-found affinity, with the chances strongly that his helpless progeny are denied even the half chance open to them at best. Court admonitions appear to be singularly ineffective in impressing upon the minds of these men that they have any sort of obligation after the marriage ties are severed. They are too often disregarded with shameless impunity and the consequent burden is borne perhaps uncomplainingly by the former wife, or the children are left to the none too tender mercies of casual charity. The jail cell is apt to give this sort of father a more wholesome conception of his duty to the general public as well as to his offspring. The Indianapolis jurist has chosen the proper remedy.

We are pleased to see that Councilman Felger gives emphatic denial to the charge that the sign ordinance was designed as a club to compel merchants to use electric current from the municipal lighting system instead of patronizing the traction company, through whose agency many of the signs were erected. Much as we value the municipal lighting system, it can justly claim rights to no such unfair advantage as that. The charge was unbelievable from the first, but the council's repudiation of the insinuation is both justified and timely.

Kendallville and Decatur are two Northern Indiana cities that seem to stand an excellent chance of securing government buildings in which the postoffices in these towns will be housed. There is little doubt but that Congressman Cline and Congressman Adair will be able to successfully land these improvements for their constituents, and both Kendallville and Decatur are to be congratulated.

The eligible list of candidates for the Old Aqueduct club, comprised of "boys" who have lived on the West side of Calhoun street for forty years or more, discloses an amazing list of names of good fellows who will doubtless have some difficulty in bringing themselves to admit that they are old enough to qualify for membership in pioneer company.

Perhaps the failure of a bonding company which is surety on the paving of four or five Fort Wayne streets may tend to hasten the day when the city will undertake its own paving contracts and avoid repetition of some past experiences in this line that have been unsatisfactory and annoying.

The only redeeming feature of the lack of facilities and the unsanitary condition of Allen county's back number jail is the possibility that unhealthy conditions might prove an additional incentive for keeping out of it.

THE TRIUMPH OF ARBITRATION.

(New York World.)

It was the public that was most deeply interested in the peaceful settlement of the controversy between the eastern railroads and their locomotive engineers which came so near resulting in a ruinous strike last spring. That fact was so obvious that at the critical juncture when the railroads had refused to make any concessions and 93 per cent of the engineers by ballot had declared themselves ready to go on strike, both sides agreed to the appointment of an impartial board to adjust their differences.

In the nature of things the award of arbitration is a compromise. The engineers gain far less than they demanded, but they are granted increased compensation in certain respects and are protected by the establishment of a minimum wage for the entire eastern district. It is the men now receiving the severest conditions, who are to receive the chief benefits of the new scale. The leveling up is done at the bottom rather than for the benefit of the best-paid men. A general increase of wages on all roads, the arbitrators declared very positively, was not warranted by the evidence presented on the engineers' side.

The engineers will abide by the award, and, although it runs for only one year from last May, Chief Stone must see the unwisdom of soon agitating again for a general increase. He went as far as he dared last spring in inciting a general strike, and was only checked by the force of public opinion. If he had been rash enough to give the word, he would have thrown 30,000 engineers out of work on the fifty-two railroads east of Chicago that operate more than one-fourth of the total mileage of the United States and serve nearly 39,000,000 people.

What such a convulsion of trade and industry would have meant to millions of workers is appalling to think. Never was arbitration, as a measure of protection for the public, more justified by the event.

SPEAKING FOR BUNCUMBE COUNTY

(Kansas City Star.)

What the novelists call an "animated scene" greets your eyes when you enter one of the galleries of the house of representatives. A lot of men are usually sitting in groups in lively conversation. Others are reading the newspapers. Above the hum of the conversation you may hear the voice of the earnest gentleman who is trying to address the house, although you probably can't make out what he is saying. In this respect you are no worse off than his colleagues on the floor. They can't, either.

Oh, occasionally everybody gets interested in what is going on and the conversation subsides. Then if the speaker has a good, strong voice—the bull like roar of Sereeno Payne, for instance—he makes the most of his opportunity and gets a hearing.

The trouble is that the real discussion has been done in the committee, and that it is well understood that nothing said on the floor of the house is going to produce any halt. No argument will change a vote, or make a change in the form of the bill—except the most extraordinary circumstances.

Years ago a proxy member from North Carolina admitted on the floor that he was speaking, not for the house, but for Buncumbe county. And buncumbe much of the talk has been ever since.

A leather hinged ex-president, under Representative Burleson's bill to give former presidents seats in the house, might make himself felt on occasions. In general, it is suspected, the chief benefit from the measure would be the assurance to him of a regular salary out of the national treasury.

THE PRESS DISCUSSES PRESIDENT'S PENSIONS.

"Stepping Into the Breach."

Washington Post: "Unless congress should make suitable provision for former presidents there should be nothing but praise for Mr. Carnegie for stepping into the breach, and no former president should hesitate for a moment in accepting the Carnegie pension."

"Self-Respect of the Nation."

Philadelphia Inquirer: "The suggestion that pensions of $25,000 a year be paid by the Carnegie corporation to former presidents or to their widows is one which the self-respect of the nation will instantly and deeply resent."

"Failure of the Government."

Baltimore Sun: "We suspect that this was Mr. Carnegie's method of calling attention to the inexcusable failure of the government to make some proper provision for its former presidents."

"Will Be Definitely Rejected."

Philadelphia Bulletin: "The proposal to link the fortunes of the presidential office with those of the United States Steel corporation or any other private enterprise will be definitely rejected by the American public."

"Government Functions."

Boston Herald: "The country rejoices in Mr. Carnegie's benevolence, but it should refuse to let governmental functions be taken care of by any individual, or through any foundation thus provided."

"Personal Wealth."

Brooklyn Eagle: "The personal wealth of no citizen should be made available for such a purpose as Mr. Carnegie proposes."

"Humiliated Fellow Citizens."

Boston Transcript: "Mr. Carnegie can relieve the feelings of his humiliated fellow citizens by promptly turning his charity into other channels where its acceptance will not be at the expense of the nation's self-respect."

"Can Do No Harm."

Pittsburgh Dispatch: "Mr. Carnegie's proposal can at least do no harm. If none desires to avail himself of the offer, well and good, but if any should feel that he should accept it he would be free to do so."

ADVICE TO SHOPPERS

(Indianapolis Star.)

To say, "Do your Christmas shopping early" is to repeat a stereotyped bit of advice, but it is good advice just the same. It is true that a large number of people must do this buying when they can, and it happens that their time is in the very last days before the holidays because, for one reason, it is only then that the money they have to spend is in their possession.

But there is a multitude of shoppers not limited in this way, and for the sake of those who must come late and for the sake of weary and overworked salesmen and saleswomen they should buy their gifts without delay and so lessen the final rush and scramble. Indianapolis department stores are doing their part to modify the strain on their employees by reducing to five the number of evenings on which they will keep open. This of itself calls for a co-operation on the part of those who can shop early that will give these evenings over to the necessarily belated ones.

There is time enough for leisurely shopping for all who have anything to buy if those who have time and money at their command will utilize their privileges now and get out of the way of the others. Christmas would not be Christmas if the shops were not busy and gay until the last moment, but they ought not to be so crowded then that all who are before the counters and all who are behind them are weary of the holiday before it comes. If the good will and the thought for others that belong to Christmas are exercised in advance that spoiling of the festival need not be.

COFFIN BEARER DROPS DEAD.

Heart Failure Causes Death of Man Carrying Body.

London, Nov. 27.—As a village funeral was going toward the parish church one of the bearers of the coffin, named William Conquest, a nephew of the deceased, was seized with heart failure and the coffin tilted over. Hadley was in Pittsburgh Tuesday evening to deliver an address upon 'Christian Liberty' in the Mt. Calvary Lutheran church, and came to New Springfield to see his mother, Mrs. W. E. SAYS PROJECT IS JUSTIFIED

Cases of Three Former Presidents Cited by Mr. Carnegie.

AS TO PENSION PLAN

New York, Nov. 27.—Andrew Carnegie, in a statement last night, announced that all but $2,000,000 of his fortune, which will be disposed of under his will, will be left to the Carnegie Corporation of New York, which has been made his residuary legatee and which will carry on his educational and charitable work. Mr. Carnegie's statement likewise explains his reasons for planning to pension ex-presidents of the United States as he provided for recently through the Carnegie corporation. In making his announcement, telling how he had gone about putting his "gospel of wealth" into practice, Mr. Carnegie said:
"I resolved to fulfill the requirements of the 'gospel of wealth' by transferring funds and have done so except that I have found it desirable to retain for awhile distribution of my United States military telegraph corps pensions and Pennsylvania railroad pensions to Pittsburgh division men and their widows, because my old boys would dislike the change and so no doubt would others upon my pension list. To meet these payments and others under my will $25,000,000 of bonds upon which the New York state tax has been paid have been reserved. But the New York corporation has been made by residuary legatee and all surplus left after meeting the provisions of my will goes to it."
"I am happy in getting all this off my mind. It is a gruesome business, because I find that this earth is rapidly becoming more and more heavily so many good men and women I know labor for others. Surely Luther, Franklin and their followers were right who held that 'service to man is the highest worship of God.'"

Explains Pension Plan.
In explaining his pension plan, Mr. Carnegie cited the cases of three former presidents as affording justification for the project, the announcement of which, he said, was "making the desired impression." His trustees and himself were all hoping, he said, that congress would meet the situation "by proper action."

"Not one of us but will rejoice should this be the result," he said. "We were very careful to provide that only in case congress failed to provide pensions to ex-presidents the corporation would stand ready to do so. It is properly the province of the nation to act. We all feel that."
Mr. Carnegie referred to a recently published letter which dealt with the circumstances of Grover Cleveland after his retirement from the presidency.
"I know about Mr. Cleveland," said Mr. Carnegie in his statement. "He told me of an offer he had to serve as director in an important institution which would give him a salary. Finding that other directors had not salaries he declined the offer, saying his name was not for sale."

Mr. Carnegie's other references were to Presidents Lincoln and Grant, the last named having been pressed for funds even while yet in the white house, the ironmaster declared, while he quoted from a letter written by Mrs. Lincoln to show that President Lincoln's family was similarly embarrassed.

BATTLE FOR LIFE IN A LAKE STORM

Survivor Tells of Desperate Struggle on Lake Superior.

WOMEN BRAVE PERIL AT THE STATE SCHOOL

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Nov. 27.—Detailing the harrowing experiences through which they passed Saturday night and Sunday, when the steamer South Shore went down off Grand Marais, Mich., members of the ill-fated boat arrived in the Soo today, thoroughly exhausted.

"I have sailed the great lakes for forty years and have never encountered such an experience as this one," said Arthur King, first freeman on the South Shore. We ran into heavy seas about 8 o'clock Saturday night, while trying to make a landing at Grand Marais. We could not see the light there, the snow storm being too dense, and we turned out into the lake to fight the storm for our lives.

Water Pours Into Ship.
"It was not long after the boat struck the seas that its seams opened and at times the water poured through them like it goes over a waterfall. At other times the boat listed on the giant waves and the windows were smashed, part of the stern being torn away."

"I was standing in water up to my waist at the firehole and the deck-hands were passing coal. As fast as they piled the coal up near me the waves washed it away."

Prizes Life Saving Crew.
"We tossed around the lake all night. Just before noon, after we had failed several times trying to attract the life savers with our whistle, the steam gave out and the whistle would not work. We ran up a white flag and the life savers came. Those fellows worked like Trojans with us. We all were obliged to jump into the life boat."

"There were two men and their wives on our boat as passengers. The women were the real heroes if any were present. They were awfully sick, but they kept their nerve. Drenched to the skin, those two women kept saying, 'Keep at it, boys.' We did."

SOME FORT WAYNE HOLIDAY FEASTS

One Dinner Here to Have 300 Pies and 20 Bushels of Potatoes

AT THE STATE SCHOOL

There is hardly a person of any age who does not look forward in eager anticipation for the last Thursday in November, which brings us Thanksgiving, with its family feasts and home-comings.

Ever since our Puritan fathers ducked behind the New England trees to slaughter a sufficient number of wild turkeys to satisfy the Puritan appetite of the heroes of the Mayflower, and then dodged some more arrows in going to church to offer thanks for their success in the new found land, Thanksgiving has been a holiday of special interest.

Thanksgiving is celebrated, as a whole, in most of our cities in the same way. Fort Wayne will have its usual Thanksgiving observance, but the chances are that all of those who sit down at noon tomorrow to their feast of turkey and cranberries will not desire long enough in supplying their cravenous stomachs, to think of the many different kinds of Thanksgiving dinners in progress in Fort Wayne at the same time.

Some of the Feasts.
It has always been the custom of those in charge of the different charitable institutions of the city to supply a big Thanksgiving feast to the inmates and this plan will be followed tomorrow. The Indiana state school for the feeble minded youth will have its usual sumptuous repast for the children, and all the orphanages in the county have planned special dinners. Inmates at the county jail will also have an extra menu.

The one biggest feast, however, will be at the Indiana school. One can hardly realize the vast quantities of provisions consumed at the institution on a feast day.

Three barrels of cranberries and twenty bushels of sweet potatoes. Sounds like a lot of provisions for one Fort Wayne dinner, doesn't it? That is only a small portion, however. There will be 288 pounds of dressed turkey and fifteen dozen cans of peas. In addition to this there will be three hundred pounds of mince and 150 of pumpkin, and to end the feast, the children will be supplied with 500 pounds of candy.

The bill of fare for the state school dinner is as follows:
Roast Turkey with Dressing.
Cranberry Sauce.
Baked Sweet Potatoes. Creamed Peas.
Pickles.
Mince Pie. Pumpkin Pie.
Milk. Coffee. Candy.
Other Big Feasts.

Another big feast will be spread at home tomorrow at St. Vincent's orphanage. The 117 children at that institution will devour among other things, twenty-five chickens and one turkey, one bushel of potatoes and thirty pumpkin pies. As a closing treat, they will have five gallons of ice cream.

At the Reformed orphan's home, the Thanksgiving dinner will include six ducks and two turkeys, twelve chickens, one bushel of potatoes and twenty pies of assorted variety. This is all for the seventy children.

Program at School.
The only Thanksgiving program announced for local institutions is at the state school, where the inmates will give an entertainment of musical and literary numbers. The boys' band will give a concert from 9:30 till 10:30 o'clock, and beginning at 10:40 a program will be rendered in the chapel. The first number will be by the girls' orchestra and choir. This will be followed by appropriate religious ceremonies, followed by reading the governor's Thanksgiving proclamation.

The closing number will be a playlet entitled, "The First Thanksgiving." The program is as follows:

Scene I.
Parson John Bradish.....Will H. Martha Bradish.....Elizabeth C. Patience and Thrift.....Ben K. John Quail (Interpreter).....Ophal K. Governor.....Otho L. Chief White Cloud.....Ben K. Three Indian Warriors.....James S. Cecil F. John L. Captain Will Coppett.....Sam H. Song—"America".....Children

Scene II.
Russell K. Howard M. Romain K. Howard L. Ben F. Indian Woman.....Ella H. Indian Girl.....Reta R. Indian Boy.....Herman S. Betsy Coppett.....Eather W. The Coppett Children.
Thankful.....Lillian C. Remember.....Lottie P. Faith.....Minnie R. Prudence.....Ruth C. "I Will Magnify Thee, O God".....Mixed Chorus

Closing Prayer.
Benediction.
March—"The Trumpeters' March"
At the County Farm.
At the Allen county farm the Thanksgiving feast will consist of sixty pounds of roasted chicken, two bushels of potatoes, served with brown gravy, one-half bushel of cranberries for sauce, forty mince pies and several dozen fried cakes. Most of the products used in the feast were grown or raised on the county farm by inmates of the institution.

The Thanksgiving dinner for the Allen county orphan's home is to be furnished by the County Orphan's Home Junior club, of which Miss Evelyn Fisher is president. The dinner will be made up of fourteen turkeys, three bushels of potatoes, one bushel of cranberries and twenty-five mince pies.

SELECTION IS DEFERRED.

No Choice of Convention City for Suffragists.
New York, Nov. 27.—It was said at national woman's suffrage association headquarters today that a selection of a city for the next annual meeting, a choice left to the executive committee by the recent convention in Philadelphia, would not be made for a week or more. Several cities have put in bids for the convention and the committee will go over the situation thoroughly before announcing its decision.

CITY OF EAST ST. LOUIS BANKRUPT

Sureties Get Off Bond of the Municipal Treasurer.

SCRIP FOR EMPLOYEES

East St. Louis, Ill., Nov. 27.—The municipality of East St. Louis is bankrupt. Banks refuse to honor warrants paid to city employees and such retail establishments as are still accepting them take them at 75 cents on the dollar. The city has a population of 80,000.

The city's condition was revealed yesterday by the announcement of E. P. Keckner, Dr. H. C. Fairbrother and Maurice V. Joyce that they had withdrawn from the bond of City Treasurer Fred Gerold. Mr. Keckner is vice president of the Union Trust and Savings bank.

"The business establishments of East St. Louis are in good condition," he said. "But the city is plainly bankrupt. That is why I had to get off the bond of Treasurer Gerold, who has been a life-long friend."

Bondsmen Fear the Risk.
"The immediate danger to myself and the others on the bond, as we saw it, was that some holder of the warrants might get a court order directing the city treasurer to redeem the warrants at their face, and in the absence of funds in the city treasury to meet the demand the bondsmen might have to pay. I understand the special tax appropriations are all gone and other special funds have been impaired."

Dr. Fairbrother said his chief objection to Gerold's acts had been that he took more than the $1500 a year allowed by ordinance as the treasurer's salary. Other treasurers have done the same, he said.

Mr. Joyce, who was a candidate for mayor against Charles Lambert, said he withdrew from the treasurer's bond because of the city's financial condition and the likelihood of increasing litigation.

Search for Another Surety.
The withdrawal became effective ten days ago, and Gerold has been negotiating through his lawyer, E. C. Kramer, to find a new surety. Mr. Kramer said he hoped to perfect arrangements in the next few days with a St. Louis surety corporation as the signer of the bond, which will be for $250,000, which is all the law requires. The bond just vacated was for $500,000.

The law permits the city to issue anticipation warrants during the latter months of the year against the revenue to be collected in the first three months of the year following. But the law limits these warrants to 70 per cent of the anticipated revenue.

This limit was reached with the issuance of anticipation warrants for $155,000. Then the issuance of controller's warrants was begun. Nearly $155,000 of these warrants have been issued, making a total indebtedness much bigger than next year's revenue will be.

Warrants Called Illegal.
Several lawyers declared the controller's warrants are not legal, but city employees took them because they could get warrants at 75 per cent of their face and used them in paying bills to St. Louis, wholesale and jobbing firms. These firms at first took the warrants, then refused them when they found that the east side banks would not accept them.

Some of the business men who have taken large quantities of the anticipation warrants and cannot cash them through the banks are threatening to pay their taxes with them. Saloonkeepers say they will pay their city license fees with the warrants.

ANNIVERSARY OF BISHOP ALERDING

Twelve Years in Episcopate Completed by Distinguished Prelate.

STUDENTS MARK DAY

Rt. Rev. Herman Joseph Alerding, D. D., fourth bishop of the diocese of Fort Wayne, completes this week twelve years of labor in the episcopate. Next Saturday, the feast of St. Andrew is the anniversary of the consecration of the distinguished prelate and will mark the opening of his thirteenth year as bishop. In accordance with his wishes the day will pass quietly, unmarked by any special celebration. As is customary, however, the students of St. Augustine's academy and the Central Catholic high school prepared their program and they were given this week in anticipation of the feast day.

At St. Augustine's.
Under the auspices of the Sisters of Providence an attractive and entertaining musical and literary program in honor of the bishop was given at the academy on Tuesday evening and was attended by the clergy and the brothers. The program consisting of eight numbers opened with a floral greeting by the minims in which the Rt. Rev. Bishop was presented with bouquets of flowers. Miss Mary Travers, of the class of '13, gave the address in behalf of the academic students and the Sisters of Providence. "Shepherds and Maidens All Fair" by Neryn was artistically rendered as a piano solo by Miss Mae Centivire. The excellent voices of the vocal class were heard to advantage in the choruses "Visions of Childhood" Miss Ruth Knapp playing the accompaniment. A violin solo, Rubenstein's Melody in F., was given by Miss Pauline Dove accompanied on the piano by Miss Helen Pauley. Miss Dove is a capable violinist whose home is in Garrett. The young ladies of the junior and senior classes entertained with a recitation entitled "The Painter of Seville." Misses Helene Clifford, Mae Centivire, Marie Sommer and Helen Pauley rendered as a piano duet "Grand Galop Chromatique" by Liszt Op. 12. Their work was especially pleasing. Rosewig's "Ave Marie" sang by the vocal class was the closing number of the program. It was followed by a response by the Bishop who, after expressing his appreciation of the entertainment given, directed the attention of the young women to the advantages which are theirs in the education received at St. Augustine's Academy. An allusion was made to the present day agitation for woman's rights, but he urged them to be at all times faithful in the performance of their duties. The guests included the local clergy, Rev. August Young of Garrett and the Brothers of the Holy Cross at Cathedral High School.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock an enjoyable program was given by the boys of the Central Catholic high school under the direction of the Brothers of the Holy Cross. The celebration opened with a college song by the high school students and an overture by the orchestra. Joseph Tompkins of the class of '13 gave the English address of welcome. Dawson Hayes, Joseph Finan, Adrian Hayes and Jerome Miller, a vocal quartet, rendered two selections. A French address was given by Charles Girardot; a German recitation by Adrian Hayes, a Latin recitation by Emmet Sog, and an English recitation by Stephen Weber. With the conclusion of the entertainment Bishop Alerding happily responded.

Will Attend Noon Services.
This year the president and most of the members of his cabinet, many senators and congressmen, who are in town, and scores of officials will attend the services held just before noon.

The president may devote an hour or two to office work Thanksgiving morning, but he will rest much of the day. At night the president will occupy his own pew in All Saints church. At 2 o'clock the president will attend the wedding of John B. Ladd, of Boston, and Miss Alice Bottell, daughter of the American minister to Switzerland. Mrs. Taft is in Washington and Robert and Charles, the Taft boys, are expected to arrive tomorrow night from school. Miss Helen will not return from her trip to Panama in time to join in the family celebration.

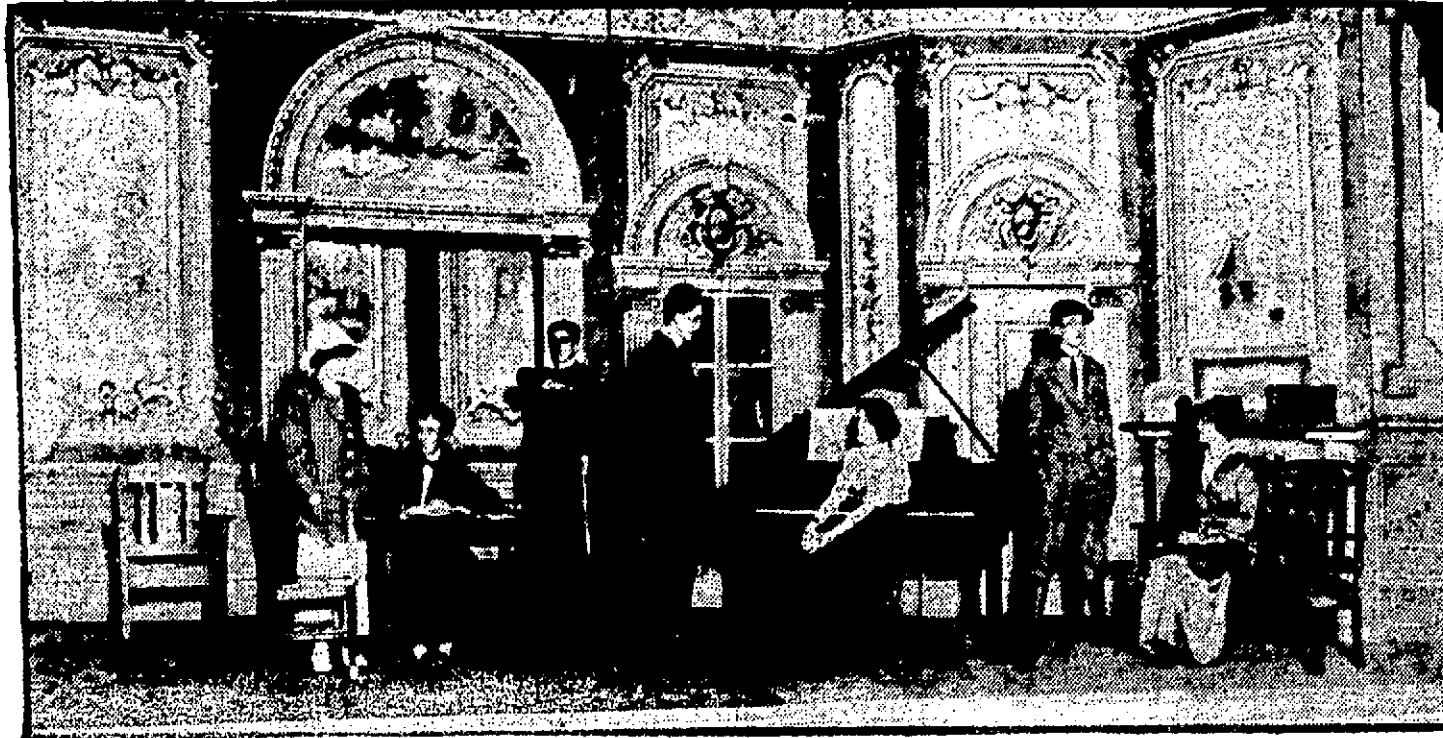

Maniac Who Terrorized Los Angeles With Infernal Machine.

The maniac who ruled Los Angeles, Cal., for over an hour, Reidbach, after his capture, refused to eat the regular food, declaring that for years he had existed on raw meat, eaten twice a week, and uncooked vegetables. The threats of prisoners to murder him if he were placed in the same cells with them, forced the police to find a special lodging for him until he is declared insane and sent to an asylum.

A company of young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kruse, near Hometown, on Sunday and enjoyed a beautiful dinner and a pleasant time playing games and listening to music. Those present were the Misses Clara and Ada Witmer, Della, Martina and Marie Kruse, Maude Jeffries and Messrs. Adam Witmer, Kenneth Botts, John and Clarence Kruse and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kruse, of this city.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Recently Miss Hallie Erminie Rives, the famous authoress, was present for the first time at a stage performance of her story, "Satan Sanderson," in which Mr. Norman Hackett is starring this season, and in which he will be seen here at the Majestic Thanksgiving matinee and evening.

She was so highly elated and enthusiastic over the artistic manner in which Mr. Hackett and his company realized her original conception of the characters that it seemed to her as if each one had come to life. When she met the company after the play she told them of their original prototypes. Satan Sanderson she said was evolved from the description her husband had given her of a chum of his at Princeton, who was a reckless young college boy known to his classmates as "Satan" for being the leader of a dissolute gang called "The Saints," but who afterward reformed and became a minister. Bishop Ludlow was taken from Bishop McKim, who married her to Mr. Wheeler, in Japan. The Tom Felder of the story was a time friend of hers from Atlanta, Ga., a young lawyer who went west for his health; while Prendegast, Mrs. Halloran, Mike Devlin and the other characters were all exact types of people she had seen while on a visit to a mining camp in Washington with her husband.

Peasant Players Friday.

Friday night of this week the theater-going public will have one more opportunity of seeing the Peasant Players of Oberammergau, when they will present, upon special request, "Der Dorfpfarrer," a three act comedy by Maximilian Schmidt, one of the most prolific writers of modern times. Probably no German dramatist has portrayed the manner and customs of the village people of Germany and especially those who inhabit the villages of the upper Bavarian Alps, where most of the scenes of his plays are laid, as has Mr. Schmidt. The "Dorfpfarrer," as are all other plays in the repertoire of the Peasant Players, is spoken in the Bavarian dialect, one of the most beautiful dialects in the German language. The run and plot of the play is simple and can be readily understood by people not acquainted with the German language. The principal comedy part of the play hinges on an ill-mated couple, which is running to the village parson every now and then seeking advice and arbitration from this good old soul, who is everybody's friend and father. The play is fascinating, and besides furnishing the comical situations mentioned it also has its little love story and portrays the every day life of these village folk, which is most important to them and very interesting to all other people.

The peasant plays are made especially interesting by their unique features, such as dances of the village people, Bavarian warbling and their native popular songs, which are interspersed throughout the play.

"Little Women" Saturday.

Seats are selling rapidly for the engagement of "Little Women" at the Majestic theater Saturday, matinee and evening, November 30.

It would seem that everybody had read this charming story of forty years ago, which today is as fresh and as wholesome as when first written.

Fort Wayne friends will be interested in learning that Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kepplinger, former residents of this city, are now located in Cincinnati, where Mr. Kepplinger will be associated in business with his brother, Warren Kepplinger, president of the Peters Cartridge company. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kepplinger had been living in Newark, N. J.

Mrs. Walter T. Shepard returned yesterday from a visit of several weeks in Newark, N. J., with relatives. Mrs. Shepard was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. May S. Wills, who will visit here. This evening, Mrs. Fred McCulloch will give a vaudeville party at the Temple theater in honor of Mrs. Wills. There will be eight in the company.

Miss Marie Kelly, of Chicago, who is visiting her father, W. H. Kelly and family, is going to Winchester on Friday to visit her sister, Mrs. John Macey, Jr., and will return here on Christmas week to divide a week's visit between Miss Margaret Fisher and Miss Olga Rice. Miss Kelly has been studying the voice in Chicago for a year and a half.

Mrs. James L. Taylor, of New York city, will arrive here on Friday to remain about ten days with her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Taylor, Jr., of Jackson street, and will then go west with her husband for a trip. On their return east both Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are expected here for the Christmas holidays and Mrs. Taylor will remain several weeks with her son.

Many friends of the Brackenridge family will learn with interest of the announcement of the engagement of Miss Grace Craft, granddaughter of the late George Brackenridge, to George Henton, of New York city. Miss Craft has been living with her parents and grandparents in San Diego, Cal., for the past three years. Previously she spent several years here with her grandparents who later moved to California, and during the time made many warm friends in this city.

A quiet wedding that will take place

LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL, GLOSSY HAIR, NO DANDRUFF—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Hair coming out?—If dry, brittle, thin or your scalp itches and is full of dandruff—Use "Danderine."

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine will immediately double the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove to yourself tonight—now—that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Adv.

DIFFICULT TO GET NEW TREATY

A Reactionary Douma in Will Present Some Obstacles.

STANDPATS TO RULE

(By Gilson Gardner.)
Washington, Nov. 27.—The election of a reactionary douma in Russia threatens to make very difficult the negotiation of a new treaty affecting the status of American Jews traveling in that country.

News of the results of the Russian election is just reaching Washington. According to best reports the standpats of Russia will control the new douma by a large majority.

The douma is chosen in a peculiar way. Instead of real popular elections, Russia has worked out a modification of our electoral college scheme. It is less popular, however, than ours in the fact that the electors are twice removed from the people instead of once removed. For example, the workmen in a taken community elect electors, who in turn elect other electors, who later on make the choice of representatives to the national legislature. At each step the government authorities, either provincial or national administrative authorities, interpose obstacles to the expression of the popular will. Sometimes there are property qualifications and sometimes publicity is denied. Occasionally the electors themselves are tampered with.

In this next douma, which is Russia's fourth, over 84 per cent of the representatives will be priests. Out of 3,526 electors chosen at the polls to elect the candidates to the douma 2,340 belonged to the reactionary parties, namely, to the so-called Right and Nationalists. 393 are independents, 393 are Octobrists, that is, semi-reactionaries or moderates. There are several progressive groups; 515 are classed as straight progressives, 347 are constitutional democrats, 324 as extreme lefts or radicals. Total, 1,186 progressives.

Thus the reactionary majority is approximately 1,154.

Russia has strongly resented the abrogation of the treaty of 1882, and is throwing obstacles in the way of Curtis Gould, our ambassador, in his endeavors to negotiate a new treaty more favorable to American Jews. Russia was officially outraged recently by the fact that Curtis Gould invited to a semi-official public reception Hessen, a Jew, editor of Retch, a prominent Semitic newspaper; also Hilukov, leader of the opposition in the present douma, and member of the staff of Retch.

The reactionary douma will be used by the government to voice opposition to any new treaty.

Government scientists have completed some remarkable experiments by which they are convinced that the stable fly is carrier and cause of the spread of infantile paralysis. Physicians in the public health service, Drs. Rosenau, Anderson and Frost, have been co-operating with physicians of the Boston board of health, Drs. C. P. Bruce and Philip A. E. Shepherd of the Bussey Institution.

Their experiments have been made with monkeys which are susceptible to infantile paralysis, and the result is the indictment of the "stomachs calcitrous, or common stable fly."

This fly resembles closely the ordinary house fly, but is a different species. The stable fly is the one usually seen on horses and cattle, boring its snout in the hide of the suffering animal.

The stable fly, unlike the house fly, feeds on blood. It seldom bites human beings, though it will do so on occasion.

The study began with experiments which showed that infantile paralysis occurred always where the stable fly was present. Thereupon caged monkeys were exposed to stable flies which had had access to the germs of this disease. The experiments were negative at first, but by watching, the scientists discovered that the monkeys were catching the flies. When the monkeys had been supplied with mittens so they could not do this, the result was infection, and it is now considered quite certain that the stable fly is the guilty party.

It is hoped by physicians that methods similar to the war on yellow fever, where, by exterminating the yellow fever mosquito, yellow fever was stamped out, will result in similar extermination of this dreaded children's disease.

ASSERTS IT WILL EFFACE OLD LINE

Third Party to Lift the Sectional Blockade, Says Beveridge.

TALK AT KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, Nov. 27.—That the progressive party is the channel through which the "sectional blockade" in American politics will be broken, was the assertion of former Senator Albert J. Beveridge in an address here last night.

"Of all the people of the earth," he said, "only in America does geography settle political action. Only in America are votes cast by physical location. The wrong that this does to every American man and woman, the shackles that it puts on normal thought and national improvement, the drawback it is to the general welfare is plain to all of us and to the whole world."

"In their hearts all Americans want to get rid of this abnormal condition. Yet so long as the democratic and republican parties live everybody knows that we cannot get rid of it. It is asking too much of human nature. Southern men and women think just as northern men and women do on all living subjects; they are as sincere, as progressive or as reactionary as the men and women of any other section of the land. Yet because of a natural prejudice, springing from bitter memories, these southern men and women cannot and will not become republicans, even though that party stood for the things they believe in now."

Answer to the Cry.

"The potential, but latent nation is here, and it cries aloud for expression. The progressive party is the answer to that cry. Southern men and women who believe in what the progressive party stands for, will gladly work and vote with us when they would not work and vote with the republican party."

"Even if by this abnormal, sectional solidarity the democratic party sometimes wins, as for the moment it now has won, yet it will be found that none of those who man the fortress of privilege in congress come from the solid south. They do not speak or vote for the men and women of the south on the questions of the hour, but have their places in the nation's councils only because of this outgrown sectionalism, which the two old parties support and keep alive."

"The progressive party surely will break this sectional blockade of true Americanism. Southern men and women are even more eager than northern men and women to express themselves politically as they think. They beg the nation to let them do so. They eagerly accept the progressive party as the channel through which they can do so. Were Instruments of Expediency."

"Just as neither of the two old parties can do this work that must be done to level the sectional walls which divide us and make the American people a single nation, so this country cannot have, through the democratic and republican parties, two political organizations opposed to one another in fundamental principles and vital policies. For both of these old parties have become mere instruments of expediency to be played upon by professional politicians on the one hand, and the time which these politicians play is really directed by federated, anti-public interests on the other hand."

"The time has come when there must be a frankly progressive or liberal party in this country, and a frankly reactionary or conservative party. And the republican party cannot become either. We progressives never again will vote the republican ticket, and even if we did we are not strong enough to make the republican party wholly and thoroughly progressive. Many of those who voted the republican ticket at the last election, are progressives. But they knowingly voted against their own convictions because they hated to give up their party name."

"And so very soon the progressives of all parties must come to the progressive party. They will have nowhere else to go. And the conservatives of all parties very soon must go to the democratic party, because they will have nowhere else to go."

How is Your Weight?

While it is true that too much weight is not to be desired yet the fact remains that many men and women are thin to the point of danger. This danger lies in their having no reserve force or nerve power to combat deadly diseases. A little extra flesh is needed by all to feel well and to look well, and this calls up the question of how best to increase the weight. Physicians and chemists, by experiments have solved the problem of increasing the white and red corpuscles of the blood by the administration of 3 grain hypo-nuclease tablets, and this is always followed by an increase of weight. Obtain in sealed packages, and take for a period of several months according to directions with package.

She said that it was not uncommon to receive cards addressed to "Queenie," although never a line was addressed to her. She alleged cruel treatment.

Fort Wayne physicians and their wives, about sixty in number, attended the first annual banquet of the Fort Wayne Medical society held Tuesday night at Elks' temple. The event was a success in every particular. Dr. B. P. Weaver presided as toastmaster, and after a sumptuous feast an interesting program of addresses held those present until a late hour.

Alleged startling secrets of the profes- sion were divulged when Dr. K. K. Wheelock attempted to explain "Why Is a Doctor?" and "Some New and Startling Facts in Physiology" were ex- pounded by B. J. Griswold.

In the absence of Dr. H. O. Brugge- man, who was detained on account of a meeting of the Ancient Order of Hi- bernians, Dr. Edward J. McOscar re- sponded to the toast, "Hurrah for the Irish." The subject, "Progress Against Odds," was discussed by Attorney Charles M. Niezer. Music for the occa- sion was furnished by Young's orchestra.

RUMOR THAT SON IS DEAD

A. Starke, Killed in Texas, May Be Fort Wayne Man of That Name.

FATHER RECEIVES INDEFINITE NEWS

Edward King, a Hunter, is Found Dead on Pennsylvania Tracks.

Fred Starke, the retired Pennsylvania blacksmith, and his family, are greatly disturbed over meager news of the death by accident of a man named Albert Starke, whom they fear may be a son of the aged blacksmith. News came through a letter from a relative in Buffalo, N. Y., who writes that she received some newspaper clippings giving an account of an accident in Texas to Albert Starke, whom she supposed was her nephew. Albert Starke was twenty-six years old, unmarried and until he went west, lived with his father in this city and worked in the Pennsylvania shops. A year ago last March he went to Belleville, Kan., where his sister, Mrs. A. Tegetmeyer, resides, and took service as a fireman on the Rock Island road. Several months ago he left Belleville and went to New Mexico, since which time the family have not heard from him. The father has telegraphed for definite information, but has not received an answer yet. Harry C. Starke, assistant foreman of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, and Henry Starke, a machinist in those shops, are brothers of Albert.

SWITCHMEN HAVE ELECTION.

Put Charles Worton at Head of Local Union.

Local Switchmen's Union of North America, No. 8, held its annual election last night with the following result:

Past President—Emil Florent, of the Wabash.

President—Charles O. Worton, of the Lake Shore.

Vice President—J. B. McLain, of the Lake Shore.

Treasurer—George W. Thiebold, of the Wabash.

Secretary—George T. Sunley, of the Pennsylvania.

Chaplain—Charles N. Taylor, of the Lake Erie & Western.

Mr. Thiebold has been the treasurer of No. 78 for fifteen years and Mr. Sunley has filled the office of secretary for ten years. The re-election of these officers is a compliment, inasmuch as it is evidence of great confidence in their integrity and appreciation of their ability on the part of the membership. The union is in a very flourishing condition. Two applicants were added to the membership roll last night and the applications of others were favorably acted upon.

FOUND DEAD BODY ON TRACKS.

Engineer Fred Jungles Makes a Gruesome Discovery.

W. F. Jungles, the engineer on west-bound Pennsylvania passenger train, No. 25, this morning discovered a body lying on the west-bound track at the curve just west of Hobart and stopped the train for investigation. The man, whose body was badly mangled, was dead, having been struck and run over by a train some time in the early morning. In his pockets were $10.05 and a hunter's permit bearing the name of Edward King, residence Crete, Ill. The latter is a small station on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois road. Conductor Samuel Kuhner, who had charge of the train, summoned the section men and turned the body over to them and they in turn delivered it to the coroner, who held an inquest this afternoon. It is presumed that the man had gone to that place to hunt.

TWO SOCIAL EVENTS.

Blacksmiths and Paper Hangers to Entertain.

There will be two entertainments this evening that will appeal to labor union people. The Blacksmiths will give their annual ball at Tanner's hall and for the entertainment of themselves and their guests, they have been at considerable pains and expense to prepare for the dance. The Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers will give a smoker at the hall, 1022 Calhoun street. Craftsmen, whether members of the union or not, are urged to attend and a good time is promised.

WILL HUNT AT MANITOU.

A. P. Greist, auditor of coal and ore freight for the Pennsylvania, with headquarters at Pittsburgh, is here visiting his son, Assistant Master Mechanic E. E. Greist, of the Pennsylvania. He will be a member of a party that will spend Friday and Saturday at Lake Manitou, shooting quail and rabbits. Other members of the party will be E. E. Greist, E. E. Dildine and Walter Hamilton. The latter recently purchased a fine gun, which will be used for the first time on this trip. If it is as effective in killing game as in smashing lamp shades, the slaughter will be terrible. In exhibiting the gun and explaining the manner in which it must be handled in the field, Mr. Hamilton put the lamps over Mr. Greist's desk out of commission a few days ago.

BOB DOUGLAS VERY SICK.

Relatives and friends in this city are anxiously awaiting news from Los Angeles concerning the condition of Robert F. Douglas, who is ill with but little prospect of recovery. Mr. Douglas has been prominently connected with an irrigation company in California for several years. He went to Los Angeles to take employment in the passenger department of the Santa Fe, but remained in that position only a short time. Several years ago there were few better known railway men in Fort Wayne than Bob Douglas, then assistant passenger agent of the Wabash.

APPOINT COMMITTEE.

The Textile Social club of the Wayne Knitting mills has made arrangements to take over the management of all of the social events at the club house the present season and the officers of the club will have personal charge of the events. They are Herbert Miller, president; Henry Herbst, vice president; Ralph Thieme, secretary; Miss Brown, treasurer. The first Tuesday in every month was decided upon as the regular meeting night.

THE KNITTERS HAVE PAPER.

The December issue of the "Wayne Knit Raveling," the new publication at the Wayne Knitting Mills, is on the press and will be issued tomorrow. It has twelve pages and contains a number of articles particularly interesting and instructive to the men and women at the mills. G. M. Sunday, son of the evangelist, is the editor of Raveling. The paper was started a year ago, but was published only two or three times, when it was abandoned.

WABASH OFFICIALS TO DETROIT.

General Superintendent S. E. Cotter, Superintendent J. C. Sullivan, Division Engineer W. S. Dames and Trainmaster C. E. Wells, of the Wabash, who spent the night and the greater portion of the forenoon in Fort Wayne, left at 11 o'clock in Mr. Cotter's private car for Detroit. While here they had a conference with Pennsylvania officials on matters of mutual interest.

HAS BADLY INFECTED HAND.

L. R. Lytle, night engineer at the Pennsylvania power station, is now having trouble with a wound in the palm of his right hand which was considered of little significance when it was received ten days ago. It was a slight break of the skin and a bruise and infection has followed. He is now off duty pending treatment.

FOREMAN HAS ARM BROKEN.

Cyrus Hartmeyer, a gang foreman working at nights at the Pennsylvania round house, sustained a fracture of the bones of one of his arms a few nights ago, when he fell. There also are other injuries, the full extent of which were being investigated by means of the X-ray.

MEN TO PLAY THE KIDS.

A dispute that at times comes near the riot point at the Pennsylvania round house office will be settled at the Kappel bowling alleys tonight. The men will play the "kids" and the agreement is that the losing side is to forever hold their peace and quit being "cheaty."

TO VISIT BOYHOOD FRIENDS.

Martin Cramer, foreman of the shipping gang at the Pennsylvania shops, and Mrs. Cramer will leave this evening for Libertyville, Ill., where they will be the guests over Thanksgiving of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kraus, whom they knew in Germany.

ERECTING TWO BOILERS.

Guy Springer, a boilermaker and erector in the employ of the Bass Foundry and Machine works, has gone to Kendallville to install two tubular boilers that the company built for the McCray Refrigerator company.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Pennsylvania Fireman A. A. Willig is off duty on account of sickness. Division Storekeeper C. P. Cherry, of the Pennsylvania, is in Pittsburgh on business for the company.

Fireman C. O. Rodenbaugh, of the Pennsylvania, and his family went to Garrett today for a visit with his father. Foreman George A. Szink, of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, will follow Mrs. Szink to Pittsburgh tonight, where they will be guests of their daughter, Mrs. Clarence Hillberry. Thanksgiving, Mrs. Szink left for Pittsburgh last night.

F. J. Votrol to Chicago and G. J. Nicholas to Crestline are visits to be made tomorrow by Pennsylvania shopmen.

Fred Mailand, Pennsylvania machinist, will leave tonight for Colorado and Kansas on business that will consume about ten days.

G. Koorsen, J. M. Remort, D. F. Kammer, J. B. Scott, C. J. Savage and J. M. Massore, of the Pennsylvania round house, are sick and off duty.

Mrs. O. J. Baals, wife of the stock keeper at the Pennsylvania round house, and her children will go to Lafayette this evening to spend the holiday with relatives and friends.

George Van Horn, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, is laid up with a badly bruised foot. The member was injured when a cylinder band he was handling got beyond control and fell.

Mrs. Hilgeman, wife of Gang Foreman F. H. Hilgeman, of the Pennsylvania round house, and her children left today for Toledo. They will spend a week in that city with Mrs. Hilgeman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Esselt.

Machinist H. J. Wright, of the Pennsylvania, according to the reports in circulation today, will be married tomorrow and with his bride take a trip to Chicago and Milwaukee. He is reticent about the matter, neither confirming nor denying the rumor.

G. A. Bowman, a carpenter at the Pennsylvania round house, who is interested in a patent brakebeam with Cyrus Hartmeyer, of the same shop, went to Montpelier, Ind., this morning on business connected with the patent. They are having castings made at the foundry in that city.

As Lloyd Briningstall extricated his foot from a hole in the Wabash tracks at Huntington and hurled his body down the embankment, the pilot of a freight engine struck his feet and added impetus to his downward fall. Fortunately Briningstall, who is a lad in his teens, was not injured, but it was a close call that will probably be a warning to remain off the railway tracks.

H. A. Boomer, of Indianapolis, general superintendent of the Lake Erie and Western, with the division offices of the various parts of the system, has been engaged in the effort to install in the minds of the local agents and the shippers and business men the importance of quickly loading and unloading cars. Mr. Boomer visited every point of importance on the system, stopping at each long enough to discuss the matter in hand with the agent and patrons of the line.

The Big Four railroad does not believe in newspaper advertising and as a result when a popular morning train which had been leaving Lafayette at 8:25 a. m. for many years, left at 8 o'clock upon a new time schedule Monday morning it failed to carry seventy-five people who went to the depot for that purpose, only to learn that the time had been changed and the train had gone. Among the party were some lawyers and stenographers who were going to Fowler to attend a trial and they had to wait for the noon train.

RECOUNT MAKES NO CHANGE.

Randolph Casts Vary Plurality, but Result is Same.

Winchester, Ind., Nov. 21.—The recount of votes in Randolph county shows that Ernst F. Choveroth, republican candidate for prosecuting attorney, was defeated by the office by four votes. Bert E. Woodbury, democrat, of Union City, was the victor. Counts as to the total of Randolph county in the races of prosecuting attorney and treasurer were filed by O. E. Davis, democrat, of Winchester. The recount showed Henry D. Good, victor for the treasurer's office by a plurality of eighty-one votes. Prior to the recount it was defeated by twenty-two votes, according to the vote before the recount was made.

AGAIN CHOSEN SPEAKER.

Carl Johannes Kaempff Re-elected by German Parliament.

Berlin, Nov. 21.—Carl Johannes Kaempff, member of the Imperial parliament for what is known as the emperor's district of Berlin, was today re-elected speaker of the house.

HIGH GRADE IN INDIANA CROPS

Department at Washington Says Quality Has Improved.

ACREAGE YIELD GAIN

Washington, Nov. 21.—The department of agriculture has just made its final report on the bumper Indiana crops of this year. The report contains highly interesting information, based on facts and estimates submitted by a large corps of reliable Indiana correspondents.

The average condition of all crops combined, compared, first, with 1911 and, secondly, with average crops of recent years, shows that Indiana stands, this year, 108 per cent, as compared with 1911, or, generally, 8 per cent better than last year, and 102 per cent, as compared with the average crop of recent years.

Yield Per Acre Gains.

Indiana's yield of corn for 1912 is given at 40.5 bushels per acre, as compared with 39 bushels in 1911 and 36.4 as an average for the last ten years.

The Indiana crop of potatoes this year averages 114 bushels per acre, as against 58 bushels last year and a ten-year average of 82 bushels. The total Indiana production of the tubers this year is reported as 9,918,000 bushels, as against 5,162,000 bushels last year. A great improvement in quality also is noted, this year's Indiana potatoes being rated in quality at 95, as against 79 last year and a ten-year average of 86. Sweet potatoes also indicate an improvement over last year, both in yield and quality.

The department of agriculture also has just issued a report of special interest to Indiana farmers on the subject of lighting farm houses. Four improved lighting systems for farm houses are presented, as the result of extensive investigations conducted by the department. These are acetylene gas, gasoline, electricity and kerosene mantle lamps. Alcohol might be considered as a lighting fuel, the department says, but at its present price, it is prohibitive.

The department went to great lengths to try to ascertain how many farm homes may be made more pleasant and attractive by proper illumination. The kerosene mantle lamp is highly recommended as economical and efficient.

"A sixteen-candle power light may be maintained, giving 17,000-candle power hours for $1," says the report, "while to give the same economy alcohol would have to be sold at 3 1/2 cents to 5 cents per gallon, as compared with the price of 59 cents. A kerosene mantle lamp with wick feed can be purchased at from $3 to $4.50, which burns satisfactorily with both alcohol and kerosene."

Acetylene is recommended as safer and more sanitary than gasoline. The cost of an acetylene plant for a farm home is estimated at $225, with an annual cost of operation of $50.

The department's "modern farm electric lighting system" is recommended as being very efficient and satisfactory, though more expensive. The cost, however, has been reduced by the advent of the tungsten lamp and the department estimates that a satisfactory electric light plant, including all equipment and labor of installation, need not exceed $550, with an annual cost of operation of $8 to $10.

LOST NINE YEARS MOTHER IS FOUND

Daughter Locates Parent Mourned as Iroquois Fire Victim.

HAD CHANGED NAME

Chicago, Nov. 21.—That truth is stranger than fiction was demonstrated once more yesterday when the story came out of how a family, disrupted by the Iroquois theater fire nine years ago, has become reunited at Grand Rapids, Wis.

The heroines of the romance are Mrs. Ella Mayhew and her daughter, Mrs. Sidney Burrows, of West Grand Rapids. For nine years it had been believed Mrs. Mayhew perished in the Iroquois fire. On the day of the disaster Mrs. Mayhew, or Mrs. Maxfield, as her name was at that time, attended the matinee at the Iroquois theater with a friend. When the fire broke out the two became separated.

Given Up as Dead.

The friend escaped uninjured, but no trace could be found of Mrs. Maxfield until a charred skeleton by which lay a ring bearing her initials was taken out of the fire ruins. She was mourned as lost.

Mrs. Maxfield was not dead, however. She was badly injured in the fire and on escaping from the theater was taken to a hospital where for fourteen months her life hung by a thread and her mind was a blank.

Upon her recovery she learned that, supposing her to be dead, her husband had married again and her only child, Mrs. Burrows, had changed her residence.

Takes Another Name.

Under the circumstances Mrs. Maxfield thought it best to conceal her identity under an assumed name. She became connected as a nurse with the hospital where she had been restored to health.

Her existence would probably never have been discovered had it not been for the settlement of an estate in which she was interested. Her real name was mentioned in the newspapers and was seen by the daughter. A long-distance telephone call followed and the voice of the mother answered Mrs. Burrows. The mother went at once to Grand Rapids, where she and her daughter have been reunited.

SEVERAL MORE TO ENJOY FEAST

Eight Drunks Sentenced to a Good Feed Tomorrow at County Jail.

CITY COURT DOCKET

The city court docket this morning contained about a dozen drunks, eight of whom were fined by Judge Mungovan. The most of those sent to jail were filthy bums, who probably would not have got any dinner at all tomorrow if they hadn't been sent to jail. As it is they will help to get away with the turkey and cranberry sauce which has been benevolently provided for the prisoners at the lock-up.

William Rogers, a drunk, had a "clever" ruse with which to get along on the street yesterday. He had his right arm tied up under his coat to give himself the appearance of a one-armed man. He was picked up while begging yesterday, but the police thought at the time that the man had been so unfortunate as to have lost his arm. When Rogers was locked up he forgot that he had only one arm and became exceedingly proficient in the use of his supposed missing member. He was sent to jail for eleven days for being drunk.

Walter Elliott, Ed Wilson, John Collins, Jim Walsh and Laurence Daugherty, all drunken bums, were sent over for fifteen days. Dave Marshall and Frank Murphy weren't quite so offensive and got 10 and 15 days, respectively.

Harvey Berry, charged with public indecency, had his case continued until Friday morning, under bond of $500.

Joe Hunt, a painter of Huntington, came in yesterday and got a big souper on. He promised to go right back to the neighboring hamlet, and Judge Mungovan didn't want to see him miss his Thanksgiving dinner, so he gave Joe a chance to get out of town.

William Hosack, charged with neglecting his children, was bound over to the circuit court under bond of $500.

First-Class Dental Work at a

When teeth are so far decayed that they cannot be filled they can be restored to usefulness, beauty and durability by the porcelain crown system. Porcelain work is one of the most beautiful operations in dentistry. It is a process of crowning teeth and matching the natural teeth so closely in shape and color that the work is imperceptible. Crowns of porcelain are so useful and comfortable to the wearer that it is soon forgotten that they are different from one's own teeth. It is as-teeth that are considered worthless can be thus made good, comfortable teeth.

EXPLAINS PLAN FOR NEW BALLOT

Proportional Representation is Urged by Clarence
G. Hoag.

MANY HEAR ADDRESS

Insisting that conditions in this country are dangerous because a large percentage of the voters have no voice in public affairs, Hon. Clarence Gilbert Hoag, secretary-treasurer of the Proportional Representation League, addressed a large gathering of Fort Wayne's leading citizens at the Commercial club Tuesday night.

Mr. Hoag discussed in detail a system termed by him as the only system of voting whereby all the people can have a voice in matters pertaining to direct government. The idea of the league which he represents was expressed by Mr. Hoag, that the names of men who are to be voted for shall be placed on the ballot by petition, and that the constituency of each candidate shall be the number resulting by the division of the total number of votes in the city or county by the number of candidates in the field.

"Under the proportional representation system," he said, "the vote of every man counts for something. It assists to determine the election of a public official, and the composition of legislative or councilmatic bodies changes just as rapidly as public opinion changes. The idea of the league is to obliterate party lines and make it easy for every man, irrespective of party affiliations, to vote for the men he deems best qualified for the office he seeks."

HOPKINS TRIAL OPENS.

Case at Frankfort Outcome of Bitter Option Fight.

Frankfort, Ind., Nov. 27.—The trial of Everett Hopkins, charged with assault and battery with intent to kill Rev. James C. Burkhart, opened yesterday. "The case is the outcome of a bitter fight and a "dry" fight which was waged here last summer. The minister was an aggressive
"dry" worker. It is charged that the minister followed Hopkins, who drove a beer wagon, to obtain the names of persons to whom beer was delivered. This was resented by the driver of the wagon, it is said, and an altercation followed in which Burkhart was injured seriously.
The defense denies there was an intent to kill.

OLD-TIME REMEDY

DARKENS THE HAIR

Gives Color, Lustre to Faded

druff Quickly Removed.

For generations Sage and Sulphur have been used for hair and scalp troubles. Almost everyone knows the value of such a combination for keeping the hair a good even color, for curing dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair, and for promoting the growth of the hair. Years ago the only way to get a Hair Tonic of this kind was to make it in the home, which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays, almost any up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready-to-use product, skillfully prepared in perfectly equipped laboratories.

An ideal preparation of this sort is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, in which Sage and Sulphur are combined with other valuable remedies for scalp troubles and thin, weak hair that is losing its color, or coming out.
After using this remedy for a few days
you will notice the color gradually coming back, your scalp will feel better, the dandruff will soon be gone, and in less than a month's time there will be a wonderful difference in your hair.

Don't neglect your hair if it is full of dandruff, losing its color or coming out. Get a fifty-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist and see what a few days' treatment will do for you. All druggists sell it, under guarantee, that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. Special

COMBINATION

The word "combination" is not here used in its ordinary, modern, business sense.
It has reference to the happy combination that has made this bank the great success that everyone knows it to have been.
It refers to the fact that the officers are practical and successful bankers, while the directors are practical and successful business men.
That makes a combination mighty hard to beat, especially when the officers and directors all pull together.
This bank also combines the safety of a national bank with the conveniences of a savings bank. It maintains a savings department where interest

SPEAKS TO CROWDS

Lawrence, Mass., Nov. 27.—Thousands of persons greeted with red lights and cheers the return to this city last night of Joseph J. Ettor, Arturo Giovannitti and Joseph Caruso, who were acquitted at Salem today of charges of murder in connection with the death of Anna Lopez
during the textile strike here last winter.
Women with babies in their arms joined in the demonstration, which gathered in volume as the crowd surged with the three acquitted men through the principal streets to Lexington hall, the headquarters of the Industrial Workers of the World. Cheers were continuous.

Speak to Crowds.
From every side street in the tenement
district flocked hundreds of operatives carrying red lights. The throng in Lexington hall finally made conditions in the building so dangerous that Ettor was forced to ask them all to leave. Then, from an open window, he addressed the great crowd, made up of mill workers of a score of nationalities.

Both Ettor and Giovannitti declared that they owed their lives to the solid arity of the industrial "classes of the world." Ettor was continually interrupted with cheers, and as he concluded
there was great enthusiasm.

See Further Victory.
"We shall see," he said, "that those who belong to the industrial workers of the world shall be protected to the full limit of our power, energy and ability.
You won your strike to get your wage advance, but you will never get enough until the mills belong to the workers, not the owners. You have got to band together in a union to gain more bread."

Ettor in his talk said in part:
"The moment ago Giovannitti and I were trapped away from you with the hope that the backbones of the Lawrence strike would be broken and that you would go back to your slavery, misery and looms. On Jan. 30 both of us were placed in a cell and told in so many words that we were there for our great activity in helping you gain your bread."

"We have had but one worry, and that was that the masters would succeed in driving you back to work; that the masters would club or bayonet you back to the mills.
"Tonight you are happy, we are happy, every one is happy. If tonight I do not sleep behind prison bars surrounded by granite walls, it is because of your support and the support of millions of men and women throughout the world. I owe my life, and so do my brothers Giovannitti and Caruso, not to the laws of Massachusetts, not to the trick of a clever lawyer, but to the working class of America and the world."

SENATOR YARLING'S PLAN.

Proposes Amendment to State Registration Law.

Shelbyville, Ind., Nov. 27.—Senator Will
A. Yarling proposes to amend the state registration law at the coming session of the legislature. He proposes to reduce the pay of the registration officers from $4 to $3 a day.
He proposes an amendment permitting
a person to make affidavit of his residence in case of sickness or for any other valid reason, which would prevent him from going to the place of registration.
He also would make it possible for traveling men to register without leaving their work. In either case he would provide that several witnesses should make affidavit to the registration application.
